

NUESTRA COMUNIDAD DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ROXBURY, MA

Nuestra Comunidad Development Corporation (Nuestra), a Boston-based community development corporation, with a legacy of excellence in affordable housing, economic development and tenant services seeks a new Executive Director. This leadership position requires a person who combines a passionate commitment to social and economic justice, sensitivity to community needs and strong management skills to lead an organization that occupies a uniquely important position in the Roxbury community of Boston.

The recent departure of Nuestra's executive director of 18 years has created an opportunity for an innovative leader with a talent for combining strong internal management and financial skills and community relations ability to plan, manage, coordinate and direct all real estate and neighborhood development activities to revitalize the neighborhood.

Founded in 1981, Nuestra, with a 2008 annual operating budget of over $6.2 million and 26 employees, is one of the most innovative and successful community development organizations in the Boston area. Nuestra aims to increase the social and economic power of individuals and families in its community through education, economic development and resident programming that foster a safe, vibrant and culturally diverse community with affordable housing. Its residents are supported and encouraged to develop to their fullest potential, with an emphasis on being active in civic affairs and feeling a strong sense of community.

The Executive Director will be a seasoned, dynamic professional with over five years experience managing a complex organization that has developed and managed real estate and delivered social services/education in a fiscally sound manner. The ED must be a community builder, active, visible and available to residents by becoming knowledgeable about the culture and legacy which drives Nuestra.
